BECOME A MEMBER

DaMigra, the umbrella association of migrant women* organisations, is nationwide active. We enable and support the political participation of all migrant and refugee women*, and we are glad of engagement and membership of organisations, associations, and informal initiatives.

With our projects #selbstbestimmt! (#selfdetermined) and Mut-Macherinnen* (Courage-Makers), we facilitate safe spaces and networks where women* can discuss self-determined themes and execute some ideas. Our approach presents an antiracist-feminist framework.

* As the umbrella association by and for migrant women* organisations in Germany, we define ourselves as intersectional, and we act accordingly. Therefore, we use gender-sensitive and inclusive language and spelling marked with an asterisk. It is a symbol that emphasizes the existing gender diversity and rejects a binary gender system. Our offers are for women*. Hereby, we mean everybody who self-identifies as a woman* or who has experiences in society as a woman*.

Empowerment!

By migrant women* For migrant women*

Women* take responsibility for themselves and their families. While fleeing as refugees or during the process of migration, women* are often left to fend for themselves. They are doers. Empowerment by and for migrant women* strengthens their agency.

Diversity is our strength; solidarity is our power.

DaMigra e.V. (the umbrella association of migrant women* organisations) represents the interests of migrant women* self-organisations. With over 70 member organisations comprised of women* from various countries of origin, DaMigra serves as a representative in political and economic spheres as well as the media, by giving recommendations and by critically monitoring on migration policy measures.

DaMigra advocates for equal opportunities, equal rights, and gender equality for migrant and refugee women* in Germany.

Self- determination!

Every woman*, who has experienced fleeing or migrating from their country, has their own story to tell. The reasons for migrating and fleeing are as diverse as the women* themselves. These women* are united in their common experiences with racism and discrimination. Equally, they all have the right to self-determination.

Women* with migration and forced-displacement histories and women* without them, but who are seen in this way, move between multiple-discrimination and the right to self-determination. They encounter countless barriers when they exercise their right to lead self-determined lives.

DaMigra is committed to breaking down these barriers.

Self- determination now!

LOBBYING AND NETWORKING

Political bodies, committees and parliaments spend a lot of time talking about women* who have migrated or fled to Germany. Decisions are made without their participation. DaMigra e.V. advocates for women's* right to self-determination and acts as a mouthpiece for its member organisations in numerous committees on the state, federal and European level.

RAISING PUBLIC AWARENESS

DaMigra deliberately distances itself from the one-sided portrait of migrant and refugee women* as victims in the media. Through targeted public relations work, DaMigra raises awareness about the multiple forms of discrimination experienced by migrant and refugee women* and makes their experiences, social engagement, and strengths visible.
